

It requires about 95 percent less energy to recycle an aluminum can than to make a new one.

